This is the letter I received from Max, almost immediately=after I sent him the letter below. Here's what I was thinking of=responding.

There seems to be =ome confusion. I was responding to your letter of Oct. 16, in which =ou said you would be getting back to me the next day. That was the l=st time we were in touch. Since I didn't hear from you, I wrote =gain, last night.

My letter to you explained the =asons for my request for a distribution from the marital trust. To =epeat, "I would like to get on with my life and work without delay.=C2◆ I've worked hard for 70 years, put away a substantial sum of mon=y. I surely have the right to access it."

<=iv>I don't see what further explanation is necessary, or why it is nec=ssary to bring Deborah into this. I could add that as I approach 90,=having worked hard for 70 years and put away a substantial some of money, = not only have the right to some peace and tranquillity to go on with my l=fe and work, but also to do so without facing an inquisition. <=div>

[I could also add something about the advice and p=actices of Max and Sam that led to a situation where for the first time in=my life, I have to face financial problems. But maybe not]

Good morning (from Scotland) Noam -->

When we were last in touch on this I replied=with a cc to Deborah (who I have copied again here) and I understood=that you, she and Valeria had discussed my need (as trustee) to know something more about the background for this req=est and your anticipated needs going forward. Deborah got back to me=and indicated that the call she and I had tentatively scheduled was being =cancelled.

If you would like me to reschedule a call with Deborah, or a meeting, I'd be glad to do that. I'll be back on Tuesday.

My best,

Max

I didn't hear from you about this, and would like to know what is happening in this matter. I would like to get on with my life and work without delay. I've worked hard for 70 years, put away a substantial sum of money. I surely have the right to access it. Could you let me know where this stands.<=>
