Subject: Fairmont Waterfront is hopeful!

I spoke with Katherine, manager of catering, at Waterfront...I gave her specifics of what we want...she says there is a tentative hold on every conf. room, but they are to find out in a day or two if the TED people will give up a room or two and she hopes to be able to put together a proposal for us.. I have our mex rep on top of this as well,...she rec'd the below email from Jean...we were asked what type of conference this would be and I said "think tank business conference"

Thank you for your mail Natalia. Our banquet space is fully committed to the Ted conference, but I know that they can sometimes make exceptions and release some of the space... I have submitted the request, and should know within a few days.

I hope you can wait until when?

Many thanks,
Jean
