

---

From: [REDACTED] >
Sent: Tuesday, May 30, 2017 12:22 PM
To: jeffrey E.
Subject: :)

Hi =effrey,

I was away and I =anted to write a proper email to you.

First I wanted to =hank you for all your help from when I met you since now.

It's been = weird year, trying to understand what to do. I was in [REDACTED] on and off and I am working for [REDACTED] that [REDACTED]. I am basically the [REDACTED], I Contact people and ask them to make a selection of what they want and then I organize the shipment or I organize trip =or her or send invitation and reminders for event...nothing special or =un. I am not even paid (she said that if she likes hoe I work she is going to pay me = [REDACTED] but I don't think its going to happen).

In the meanwhile = tried to get into very prestigious [REDACTED] school in [REDACTED] but I didn't get in =apparently it is normal it is very difficult to get in and almost no one get in, for example a =riend that is [REDACTED] now in [REDACTED] and she is quite well known when she tried in = different school in [REDACTED] she didn't get in).

Now that I am =oing Excel sheet all day long I am realising always more that I would like to do something more =creative like acting or digital photography.

I have to be =onest with you, I am struggling with what to do next this is why I never know what to tell =ou. I know you are disappointed and I am sorry we didn't see each =ther while you were in Paris. I hope you trust you and me believe that I didn't =ell [REDACTED] you were in Paris, why should I have done that? I know you don't =ant to see her and I understand the situation.

I realized it was = mistake to study [REDACTED] and I should I have done something else from the =eginning.

Anyways I know =ou did so much for me and I wanted to thank you with all my heart and let you know I always think =about you. I really hope you are well, happy and healthy.

xxxxxx

=