Update:

I found that the blue tos-link cable which connects the mac to the ste=eo was slack. I adjusted it in the optical port and taped it in place for t=e temp, since it no longer seems like a snug fit. I am testing now to see i= it holds.

I will do some research to see if I could find a "wireless" sol=tion or if there is a longer tos-link cable available to replace the blue c=ble so that there is no strain on stereo rack.
