
From: Noam Chomsky <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Thursday, June 4, 2015 6:11 PM
To: jeevacation@gmail.com
Cc: valeria.chomsky@gmail.com
Subject: language of the blind

Very good to have a chance to talk today, as always.=nbsp; And enjoyed the follow-up conversation too. Interesting people= Especially Martin.

The study on acquisition of language by the blind th=t I mentioned is: Barbara Landau and Lila Gleitman, Language and Experience: Evidence from the Blind Child. From a=out 25 years ago. A real breakthrough at the time. There'=s been work since, much of it by Lila Gleitman and her students. Lil=, incidentally, is someone you might want to get to know. An old friend, and a really outstanding psycholinguist-cognitive scientist= one of the best.

Noam <http://www.amazon.com/Language-Exp=rience-Evidence-Cognitive-Science/dp/0674510267/ref=sr_1_2?s=books&ie=UTF8&qid=1433441031&sr=1-2&keywords=Barbara+Lan=au+and+Lila+Gleitman>