In Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, despite ongoing efforts by the Egypt military, an Islamic State-affiliated terror group continues to deliver a succession of painful, deadly attacks on the Arab country's security forces. With Islamic State's losses in Syria and Iraq piling up, the Sinai remains an area where the terrorist organization is active. Occasionally, Islamic State's Sinai affiliate fires rockets into southern Israel, including an attack in mid-October. Yoram Schweitzer, former head of the Counter International Terror Section in the IDF, told JNS.org that Egypt's current security effort in the Sinai is better, but we see that terrorism isn't breaking."

Asthma treatment could b= Israel's latest high achievement in medical cannabis</=>

By Adam Abrams/JNS.org

In a development that could spark Israel&rsq=o;s latest achievement within the medical cannabis sector, the Israeli=British cannabis start-up CIITECH announced that it will fund a research p=object exploring methods for treating asthma with medical cannabis. “=CBD (a non-psychoactive cannabis compound) is proven to have anti-inflamm=tory properties. Since asthma and other respiratory conditions present th=mselves as inflammation of the airway, it's long been believed th=t cannabis might be a good therapeutic candidate," said CIITECH f=under Clifton Flack.

The Trump administration's decision to withdraw from UNESCO is one spot across the U.N.'s bow. Notoriously hospitable to dictatorships—hostile to Israel and mismanaged as well, UNESCO deserves the warning. But what does the U.S. do about U.N. member countries consistently voting against it and against Israel without even a national policy excuse for doing so? Not enough, writes columnist Eric Rozenman.
