David,

My client is going to have their in-house architect create a basic design plan that your architect can review. They should have them early next week and we can have a call later in the week with your architect to discuss it.

Hi Jordan,

I just spoke to Maggie about this. We'll get you some preliminary drawings early next week, and then we should plan to meet with the Landlord and architect at the end of next week.

Hi Jordan,

I'm very flexible tomorrow after 8:30am (Pacific Time). What time would work best for the Landlord?

Guy,

I spoke with David Mitchell regarding the question below and told him that we are currently exploring security deposit with a potential financial partner but it would likely take a couple of weeks. In the interim I suggested that his architect create a test fit so that we can determine if the alterations will be within the budget of the rent we offered and achievable for a September 2018 opening. He asked for us to get on a call with him and the architect at some point tomorrow. Can you provide some availabilities for tomorrow.
