
From: Larry Visoski [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, January 28, 2014 10:44 PM
To: Je vacation
Subject: Tray lid lift
Attachments: photo.JPG; Untitled attachment 00202.txt

Jeffrey

Instead of routing out the wood or using a metal piece for ease of lifting the tray table lid, how about installing / epoxy a rubber nipple, either round like photo or 1/4 inch long piece that you could use as a lifting area with your thumb? also rubber would not damage tray table surface while extending table.

Do you like this idea?