jeffrey darling.... how does it feel to be a free man ??
have you run around town scouting and collecting new butterflies ;) !

i miiiiiss you.

and didn't have the chance to see you before you jetted out of town. next time you're in NY on a Sunday, want to come with me to a gospel church in Harlem?!
I've never been... i think it would be so much fun... we could round up a few friends and wear our Sunday best (sparkles for me - teasing!) ... you in?

have fun in Paris!

prayers are with you always.

PS: still collecting music, and fine tuning ideas... and saving up some money to invest in a recording device as i'm no longer allowed to use the school equipment since i'm not a current student. i haven't given up on "his house". its something very near and dear to my heart. as you very well know.
