Lyn and Jojo are asking if they can come work in PB this weekend. It would normally be their turn to work this weekend, but I thought since you are coming to NY Tuesday, they wouldn't need to go down. I spoke to Lyn and she said they have things at the house there in the drawers, etc that they would like to get on their own. (I offered for someone there to pack them and bring them, but she didn't like that idea)

Are you OK with them flying down on Friday, and returning to NY on Monday? That way Janusz and Louella can have Sat. and Sunday off as they will have been working 10 days straight by then.

What do you think?
