hi jeffrey,

i just remembered that when i went to the island and i did the sample on the ceiling, you gave me two or three very heavy books showing paintings from escorial and other palaces. i put those books in a suitcase together with some materials, brushes, paints etc, and brice said he's going to take care of that suitcase. i put them there thinking that i have to go back in a few days. so brice have the suitcase in case you need those books.

another thing: i might go for a little while in romania visit my family while i have this free time, and i'll be back whenever you want me to start painting the ceiling and the rooms at the island.. just e-mail me when they are going to be ready to start the painting.

and the last thing: i dont know why but i didnt get paid for like two months.. i sent the last invoice to rich kahn two weeks ago, and nothing happened. sorry for bothering with that.

thank you,
ion

ps. in the mean time, even i would be in romania, if you have some ideas and you would like to see how that would look on the wall or ceiling, just e-mail me what room and what and i can do that in computer in photoshop and e-mail you the image.

hi jeffrey,
..i was thinking today that i was working for so long here and we didn't do any project yet.. i have the feeling that i didn't do anything even i'm working, and i feel embarrassed that i have to ask you to pay me.
so i was thinking maybe it would be better if i would take a brake for a while, one month or two, as long as we can not start any project: at the island we cannot do the ceiling because they have to do the cabinets first, and this is going to take some time.. and at the house at 71st st it seems we cannot start anything yet.. i feel somehow useless so if you want me to take a brake dont worry i dont mind

thank you,
ion
