

To: Jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: John Brockman
Sent: Fri 7/16/2010 8:32:14 PM
Subject: Google Buys Metaweb

Google Buys Metaweb, the One Company That Could Revolutionize Google Search

<http://www.fastcompany.com/1671024/google-buys-metaweb-the-one-company-that-could-revolutionize-google-search>

...Metaweb was founded by Danny Hillis, a computing legend who pioneered both the RAID disk array and parallel computing, both now standards. He was also a vice president at Disney, and took control of Metaweb once it spun out of Applied Minds in 2005. It's not clear if he'll be going to work at Google, but he would certainly be a major asset to the team at Mountain View.