If you want me to come over sometime, call my cell ([REDACTED]). I have nothing planned. Was told to rest. My MRI revealed a large herniated disk with nerve impingment--this is why I have the left leg pain and my foot went numb. Was put on heavy duty steroids and anti-inflammatory meds, and told to do no real physical activity, so sitting and talking is right up my alley this weekend.

I thought nothing could surprise me about Critton. Wrong again.
