the tanks are very special, thanks for the offer just fyi that when he purchased the designed coral alone for the bit tank, it was 7K
all the equipment inside the stands was expensive etc.

privately between you and me both together with everything and all the exotics would be about $30k i think..... but he's not 'there' yet, but give it a few days,

i'll see. I've no idea if you had any idea of the expense of the things....
We DO have a perfect fish guy who would move the tanks and fish - to wherever they end up going - that's his specialty - so that's good.

it's so awful, this feeling in my body and my heart - i feel like I did at HHH when we had to get out....

except this time it's my own things and my own life that is on the line.....

i'm negotiating for a personal $20k quick consulting hit right now for 3 months with good upside which would help pay for the move and urgent bills; so frankly, selling the tanks would come in v handy what can I say..... Thanks for thinking of this and for your support - it means a great deal to me

quietly in a bit of despair but soldiering on.....
love,

isi

i'm also on tenderhooks waiting to see from the lawyer if we have till April 30th to get out or May 7th (my preferred date) cos which ever date we get, is when the judgment comes down :-( and the later the better.....
of course as miracles can still occur.....
