I'm passing that on now. The biggest battle will be distancing herself from the old crowd..she needs a real ruthless advocate there, since my voice fall on deaf ears compared to that "scene". As for me, here, have meeting with Arte (owned by Covent Garden), they heard demo of WH, loved it. When u talk to Mattola again, will u ask him for me, if he knows who I can contact regarding Josh Groban--agent or manager--? Here's a mind picture for ya: just passed this old frenchman under the Seine footbridge, playing 'cor'deen, footdrum, trombone and singing "on broadway" in french like Aznavour...you would have had a big smile! A bien tot--P
