I don't appreciate your foul language, and I don't appreciate your forwarding my emails to other people. I don't do that to you.

Ironically, I meant every word of the note that I sent you. I was very upset and I slipped. I should not have burdened you with my feelings. A part of me will always love you, but you are not good for me, and I am not good for you.

Please don't send me nasty emails. I have asked you that a thousand times. I hope you will be well and happy. I wish you all good things. I hope you have a nice Easter/Passover. Take care and God Bless.

Well this answers my question. I have been thinking about you and crying over you and missing you so much. I want to feel your arms around me and tell me everything will be all right. I am in tears and I am thinking that would he even take my call? I asked God for a sign. And then a moment later I sat down at my desk to write you an email and I find one from you. I love you and I can't get over it. I miss you. I don't know what is wrong with me that I have such a hard time trusting you. Can we see each other and talk? I miss you.
