You have asked a number of questions about my friend Mike, who is the main one I am working with. He purposely keeps a secretive presence. However, last night another high end client, who got badly burned by a corrupt "F" rating by the Better Business Bureau, and who spent literally over a million dollars fighting them without success hired Mike. Last night ABC news broke the story. All this was put together by Mike, who you can see anonymously being interviewed (back to camera) a few times. Basically, with the backlash from this story, etc., BBB is now shown to be quite corrupt, and is close to going out of business.

Watch the entire interview. Lots and lots of press following this, and it is making huge headlines, and lots to follow. I am home today for the next few hours. have to go out late afternoon/evening if you want to call and go over anything. [REDACTED] Working again all day on your stuff...

Note from Mike: I'm already working on the follow up with ABC. (NOTE: I'm anonymous to the public, but if you want to clue Jeffrey in that's ok, just realize I don't need the BBB coming after me with frivolous law suits).
