Good Morning,
Just a quick update on Lucky. He had a growth removed from his groin area, results all come back negative no abnormalities. He managed to pull a number of stitches out, hence he is staying in the stables, so he may be watched more closely and keep the area clean. He is on antibiotics and Eddy is walking him daily, overall in good spirits and will have another vet check next week
If you have any questions or concerns please let me know

Warmest regards
