FYI, getting an overwhelmingly positive reaction. this is good, especially as it is only in its first stages and will be flushed out with a lot of content.

Hi Al,

The site you are creating for Jeffrey Epstein is impressive.

I don't have a site of my own where I provide links to any funding sources or to anything other than research programs that I myself am involved in. And the website of the research organization (Caltech Theoretical Astrophysics) that I belong to is the same. However, if we add any such links I will surely include Jeffrey's.

Best wishes,
Kip
