You're my special one, sweetie you are, our relationship has defined my life and I still want you to be part of my family.

If its not my body, design sense, inspiration and general friendship I'm rather depleted in knowing what I can offer you really. It's probably me paying closer attention, as best as I can from afar, as to the things that might bring you pleasure, and our meeting once in a while and having a great time together as friends, with the emphasis on friends since after what you and I shared in love me being in your bed one night, gen the next sue the next etc,,is not going to be a recipie for success I don't think.

I am truly grateful to have you in my life for the ways in which you try and help, your power to actualize dreams is an extraordinary gift that you own.. That being said, Charlotte is meeting Annabelle right now!
