Had lunch with David Roth yesterday and he told me he was approached and told the offer is one million dollars if he can get you a pardon. He said he declined. He has never asked if I am involved and I have never hinted in any way (David knows that I am very quiet about my cases, especially when it is important. He likes that about me because I am the same with his). David will be careful with whom he talks about this offer and he may not mention it to anyone else. Just want you to know so it can be taken into account.

Hope all is well.
