Subject: FYI

I am actually having some fun writing this content up for you. I guess I am going to give everyone the impression that you are not only intelligent and knowledgeable, but also clever too. Ha, ha, ha... ;-)

BTW, these are the different teams working:

There is one group that specializes in creating more links and exposure to the other Jeff and jeffrey Epstein's of the world, so that they get more prominence.

There is another group that creates the actual websites and designs for both the real and false new Epsteins, and puts in the content when it is completed.

There is myself who is busy creating the content for the science and coordinating this all.

There is a group that hacks and removes stuff.

So, quite a coordinated effort...

Enjoy Paris...
