All we did was get pricing for you.....this guy is really good at what he does...so the rocker would be perfect as he would buy one and copy...so that you could have the three in sixty days....Sarah was not sure that there were three in stock so that's why we priced all items per request....none of these items are from restoration...restoration is cheaper than custom...you should go with them.

Problem is that all pieces are being custom made to fill orders and delivery if ordered today would be FOB New York in mid December...(Went there yesterday to get stuff for myself...delivery was quoted as mid December for non stock items)

We still have no feed back from you or your team on furniture manufacturing and final drawing set

Thanks
