We offered up our vendor list....we are in the process of sending the plans out...I am not a manufacturing turnkey operation. The vendors are available to bid .Doug has talked with both Jorge and Matt regarding this. We are not acting as owners Rep...this I believe is your role. We are not ordering the kitchen ...this is coming from Doug or Rich...we are not paying for this so there is no reason for us to manage this process. We will send out the plans to the three vendors and copy you and Doug. You will receive the quotes and will be able to negotiate the contract directly. We are happy to talk with the approved vendor and discuss any design and or constructability issues. We are also available to monitor onsite installation if that is necessary.

Hope this is clear.

It is my understanding you were to design build and install the complete package turn key. Please contact me to coordinate what I need to prep for.

Doug will be bidding them out to 3 companies in CA. The NY companies are not available to do the jobs given the time constraints.
