Hi, Yes, we did accomplish a lot! Finding a contractor that you're comfortable with is a huge step forward. Rob is such a lovely guy and I trust him completely. Concerning the programming document (along with all the other drawings), I'm really looking forward to officially beginning the project. I'll have the revised contract to you tomorrow. Since you're concerned about the schedule, the best thing would be to messenger the retainer and signed contract to my office on Monday. That way production can proceed without further delay. Ethan, my office manager, can also send a messenger to you if that's better.

I sent an email to Mary Wilson at the building department this week with a revised scope of work ie: service room, conversion of garage to habitable space. I'm not anticipating any problems, but it's good to bring them along with the process. I noticed a surveyor's stake in the front yard yesterday. Looks like Jack K is in the process of getting the c of o for the deck.

Have a wonderful week end!
James

Hi,

Sorry about the late hour. I've attached the proposal. I'm running around with meetings most of tomorrow, so I may be a bit hard to reach by phone. I'll be checking email in case you have questions/comments about the proposal. We can always discuss on Friday as well.

Best,

James

PS: just received the message below re: phone message. But I'm wondering if this was send a few days back....didn't receive VM from you today.
