Subject: Thank you

thank you so much for the check (i just got it)! i was a wonderful surprise - and i promise to look much more put together next time we meet.

is it okay with you if i reach out to martin and seth now? maybe i should have a title when speaking with these people? how would you like me to describe myself to them? (if you have no opinion on this matter i can lead, but i like to be on the cautious side of formality at first since i am representing you in a way).

i put all the names you gave me a while back into a spreadsheet and will start to highlight/codify what to focus on for funding them. perhaps we could meet again soon to go over this. i'll also add some more of my contacts (from the up and coming science realms) that you may be interested in...and work a bit on the design for presentation of the material.

and finally, i have a banker/currency trader/programmer genius friend from MIT you may want to meet (you mentioned you were looking for a programmer - and this is my world). i'll forward his CV and a blurb about him soon if you like. i promise he is one of the best.

let's meet again soon. i like it. (i'm stuck on the visual imprinting before age 7 thing. smart. if only we could have children for experimentation's sake...(i'd also love to raise twins in different rooms that had horizontal and vertical stripes, respectively.)

and thanks again - be it for work or wardrobe, it is a much appreciated gesture.
