It's pretty cheap to run but I want to expand it to 8 girls and pay for a few field visits for them (around town) and maybe even invite a Nobel laureate or two to come visit them.

So if you are still giving out money for science (this is girl's science) let me know? I put in $15K of my own salary and the foundation matches some of it. Budget is now about $75K annually that [REDACTED] and I have a small grant for but pls consider this one in your lineup. OK? It's at the University so charitable, etc. Plus the girls are super smart.
