There is work... Is not that I'm doing nothing all day. I'm doing market research since I arrived here, and I report to my boss every second, third day. The problem is that the sales went down drastically lately and everybody is a bit stressed about it, and trying to come up with solutions asap...so maybe this was another reason why I thought that I won't be needed I'll finish end of october. I think my bf is actually more mature than I am when it comes to many things specially when it comes to work. I'm stubborn coz I've got lost so many times I don't want it to happen again. I have many insecurities (personal and financial) :(

And I've listened to all your advices... sooner or later.

I care a lot about my bf, and I'm strong because he's there for me 24h a day.

ask the boss, if there is anything you can do to help him or the company, Ask for more work. ., when is your 3 months up. ? ask, if there is not work in your department, if there is something you can do in another, dept. .. I hesitate to give you more advice, you rarely if ever takemine .. (I told you that going to Lyndons party was very very important. you made the decision, not to go., its been difficult since then,) the issue was were you going to behave like an adult, or like a child, with a childish boyfriend.), You are really great, but very stubborn.

Great!!! Was thinking of you this weekend, I was looking for you on skype.

I don't want to complain but so far I've only been in dept. Is funny that I took the salary(1400) and spent it in the first week (paying the rent, buying abonament for tube, some groceries from the supermarket and the bank overdraft I had) Am I doing something wrong? Or is just the way it is? And no way of buying new clothes even though I need since winter is coming with fast steps [REDACTED]...

I can say I'm a bit patrified thinking that my boyfriend is comeing here next week, and starting a life together. I have to admit that he won't be able to take care of me in the next 2-3 years at least, so I'm kind of on my own, so I have to grow in my job and be smart about every step. So far I don't feel needed in the office, and I don't know if is because all of them are professional and don't need my oppinion, or I just don't have good ideas...anyway I'm trying to learn everyday...

There was another intern working here with me, and he left for another job before he finished his 3 months.

Any advice?

kisses
