Jeffrey,

Boeing test flight went ok,

I still have an auto pilot issue, the auto pilot does not follow the command bars again, same problem as before, it was working fine all last week when I did my ground runs, it will be worked on Monday,

-auto pilot works Manuel heading and altitude hold is great, just have to manually turn aircraft with autopilot control knob at this time,

-Fwd air stair light that indicates up and locked did not extinguish, simple rigging adjustment, other wise air stairs work good.

-all other systems are normal, flew for 1+10min.

and a great landing,
