Dear Dr. Tramo,
I'm writing a piece for the June issue of ELLE magazine about the ways in which music can affect mood, physical endurance, concentration, etc, and would love to speak to you about some of these topics (I'm also interested in hearing about recent and ongoing studies in this area). Is that something you might be interested in? We could either set up a quick phone chat or conduct the interview via email - whichever is easier for you - and my deadline is end of this week.

Thanks!
April
