Ok! shame... I'm assuming Jeffrey has seen them though?
We were to set up a call this evening, later on, I assume between 9 and 10 pm, are we still on for that je?

Also, I've tracked down the plans for 71st through Richard, he has waiting in the oval office.. detailed floor and elevation plans for the ground floor and first floor of the house, and is digging up floor plans for all six floors. So we have what we need for the dining room and entrance hall.

Subj: tub...

This is what I am sketching for the tub

Imagine a structure as if it has been there for ever, and crumbled, a fountain spewing water through the mouth of a sea god eaten up by moss and salt air, in a stone basin with sides like solidified stalactites, similar in inspiration to the upper part of the cornice in your library, in back of it crumbled rocks through which plants and flowers grow, the two walls on the side covered in broken antique mirrors, so little reflection but light, the two pillars at the entrance their tops broken and a structure to cover it in bambboo tightly woven, so water does not come through, the shower head comes out from the left pillar, floor made of pebbles in different colors and in a pattern, the water collect in the middle of the room in a small flat pool that drains it.

How does that strike you?
