Subject: Action needed: Don't let your Google paid storage plan expire

Hi,

On Mar 25, 2010, your attempt to renew Google paid storage was unsuccessful, probably because of an expired or canceled credit card. So that we can successfully process your order, please update your credit card details in Google Checkout by Mar 31, 2010. Note that if you do not update your credit card details by Mar 31, 2010, your order will be canceled and we will reset your Google paid storage to the free levels offered by each product. Under our existing policy, data in your additional storage quota will not be affected, but you may not be able to send/receive email or upload more photos until you repurchase storage. Please click here for more information on our policies.

Please see the Google Checkout Help Center for information on payment troubleshooting.

Thanks,
The Google storage team
