Subject: My schedule

So everything is set for me to be able to go to FL on sun.
I am scheduled to either start the XC on monday or finish up some simulator sessions in FXE on mon+ tue first and then leave on wed. That depends on whether they fix the simulator up here soon ( I will have a final answer on thursday )
But start and finish for my cross country trip will be from fort lauderdale so I can also be there on the 12+13th.

If LV can't fly the heli on sun, I would just airline down to PB then.. The weather wed-sun looks great here.

Let me know if that works for you. But if you have other plans with girls and my presence creates an issue, I would appreciate you telling me now not at the last minute. Once I schedule the XC start, I will have little control over it - dispatch will be in charge of everything for 2weeks.
