Good Morning Mr Epstein, I may have got side tracked the other day off usual topic sorry about that. I received a 92 in my last class that I took I received my results yesterday. I looked at the sheet posted on the wall and it was humorous for me there was a 98's, 96's, 94's, that was from the instructor giving out the answers lol hey I feel happy with my score I know that I knew 90% of that test and I did it with hard work. My class yesterday is really interesting different atmosphere the instructor has lots of knowledge to share. The course is "Energy Conservation" I'm learning how to do energy audits, energy management, electric energy calculations just to name a few. My other class would be "Indoor Air Quality" this class is on Wednesday's I'm looking forward to it. What's really cool about me taking these courses is that I'm learning allot and If I take another class called "Mechanical Drafting" which teaches me how to read and draw blueprints, I would receive 15 credits towards a associate degree program at "New York City Tech" major would be "Environmental Control Technology" those are my goals for 2010. How are things with you? hopefully fine. Have you been exercising? I was watching the "Doctors Network" on channel 2 and that's the number one cure of most health problems. I'm sure your taking care of yourself. Right now I have to start getting dressed to leave for therapy ooh by the way did you watch the Olympics oh boy Shawn White is incredible take a look if you haven't on you tube. Alright Mr Epstein I hope you have a good day enjoy and I will speak to you soon
