Just spent the morning with George Whitesides and he is amazing.
I love the honesty and candor that people in their 70s have - plus he's so smart.
The thing I found most unique about him is his ability to be truly multidisciplinary.
He takes ideas to products to market (he's started companies, etc).
He also knows physics, chemistry, medicine, etc.
Plus, he says "who cares?" a lot.
I liked that.

We visited Nathan's ISF workshop this morning.

Hope you are ok - you need to meet George.
