Hello Sir,

Richard caught up with Pat Callahan from Sawyer controls today. There are cell signal repeaters installed in the stairwell. The power supply that the devices were plugged into had failed. We are getting a replacement for them now and ATT signal should be fine within the house.

With regard to the 27" iMac. I assume that will be going up on your desk on the 6th floor. Where did you want other iMacs placed in the house and will they also be 27" or should they be a step down?

Thanks

WM
