

To: jeevacation@gmail.com[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Tue 12/1/2009 1:44:44 PM
Subject: Re: London Property

Thanks, I am OK, but a great friend of mine was diagnosed with cancer earlier this year and I have had to deal with all sorts of things as a result. Anyway, things are improving on that front. It has however been a big distraction.

Are you free to travel yet? If so, do try and come to Switzerland.

In a message dated 01/12/2009 13:39:41 GMT Standard Time, jeevacation@gmail.com writes:

Are you ok?

Sent from my iPhone

On Dec 1, 2009, at 6:55 AM [REDACTED] wrote:

Jeffrey,

I doubt you are looking for a house in London at the moment, but I pass this on just on the slim offchance you might be interested in arguably the best house in London (located in Kensington Palace Gardens)?

I am so sorry that I have not made it over to America. I have been stuck her for all sorts of reasons which is maddening as I could sure do with your weather!

I have taken a very nice place in Klosters, Switzerland from Dec 15th - Jan 15th, to which you would be most welcome anytime. Please it give it some serious thought.

As ever,

Mark

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Sent: 01/12/2009 11:47:49 GMT Standard Time
Subj: London Property

Mark,

Would you have anyone who would be potentially be interested in probably the best house in London, it is an embassy at the moment but could be turned back into a private house.

It consist of 30,000sqft but could be made larger, it sits in one of the finest address in London and is deliverable through a very high powered contact I know. If this is something that may be of interest to an individual you may know then please let me know.

The price they are seeking is £100million and this is not negotiable.

Hope all is well and let's catch up soon.

Kind regards,

Dom

DSChurchill

2nd Floor Office

19 South Audley Street

London

W1K 2BN

www.dschurchill.com

=