Quite the spot
Lots of challenges...seems like a lot of cooks on the job...

I think I get it...needs a plan as I feel you are wasting money on doing things twice or even three times...

Love the project..really has a good feeling and what's nice is the different points of view...scale is perfect...architecture is a bit confused.
Easy to get that sorted..you need one eye on this...plus yours of course!

Did pinto do the decorating?the new office/library is fantastic...think the window is too small,done is done.they switched the ac off to see what would happen??...crazy...it will all expand and crack...unless that's what you want?

This place feels very south of france/Provence with a touch of Tuscany

More when I see you
