Title: Re: Things we didn't get to in our chat I like both the guidance and the idea - I'll do my best, and let you know how it goes..

Sincerely,
Angel

I would suggest the term " guidance" . as the hair is light, I'd suggest a white accent. scarf, headband , it will add to the halo effect

Ha ha! I'm staying at a friend's townhouse in Soho and only brought two dresses so they are stuck. Besides they will be mesmerized by the hair anyway - it is that good.

How much control do you want anyway? ;)

my roundtable last weekend. Went superbly. 30 folks from all over. I should have a website up shortly and a press release Monday.

Here's another interesting person: <http://lazowska.cs.washington.edu/> He runs the eScience Institute at U of Washington. They have a faculty search out so I will apply.

And I wanted to chastise you for making my hair so great, so that now I'm going to have to go back to Michel and endure the drain on my credit card. Btw, the first beneficiary of the new hair was Nathan Myhrvold, with whom I had lunch the next day (hope I'm making you jealous... ;)). Brockman's about to benefit tonight.

Happy thanksgiving!!
