Title: Eureka!

Mattie Siegal got an "A" in her sociology class at Hunter summer school!!!

A small step for man. A giant leap for mankind.

See what a calming, supportive influence I am.

I could have been a spectacular mother...

now I just have to get her to work for four "A"s in the fall and she can go back to Skidmore and fall apart again....just kidding.

She is trying to take a film class so I can bring in a few directors to guest lecture and she can get an easy "A".

She also mentioned a class about "The Beatles". Do you believe one can actually get college credit studying about Ringo?...and I told her a surprise appearance by Sir Paul is not out of the question.

I am beyond relieved she is not retarded.
