Hi, dear Jeffrey! I have applied for an international driver's license, and I should get it in 2 weeks, fortunately, I don't have to take any classes or tests. So, I can be your personal driver when I come :-)
I have been searching for a job lately...haven't found anything. They don't want someone without experience, and they still shorten the number of positions, so it's really hard to find a job nowadays. I was going to ask you about some money, so if you could send me some, that would be really helpful for me, as my parents are not earning much now too.
Miss you a lot. By the way, do you still want me to work at the office when I come? I would love to....
Many many kisses from [REDACTED]
