Hi! How r u?

Maybe [REDACTED] told u about [REDACTED] dogs I'm having for a weekend. Cuz he had to leave to LV and was so busy that he didn't have time to figure out where to put them..I was with him when he was stressing about it so I just offered myself...its not so much fun cuz its pugs and they r realle stupid and badly trained...its freaking me out.haha...and actually those dogs r his ex gf's..but he takes care of them sometimes. Do u think it was a good move to do that?

And I have another thing...actually 2.

He has bday in 2 weeks and I have no idea what to get him. What kind of presents men likes? Except some great sex of course..

And at some point I have to tell him that I'm gonna break up with [REDACTED] [REDACTED] I don't know if that's gonna make us move to the next level, probably...the thing is that its fun like it is now..and I'm pretty sure if we gonna get serious it won't work.but I guess it has to end somehow anyway...so maybe that's the way. I don't know..

What do u think?
