i forgot to ask you
we have these VOIP phones and you can sometimes hear clicking when you are recorded line i'm sure you know/knew

you ok?

i found this super cool technology that is really smart. gabor patches are neat.
instead of using surgery to repair refractive error (hardware problem) it uses some intense visual cortex training (software adjustment). it's called revivalvision and of course it was developed by israeli defense forces. anyway - really neat. website is so tacky and cheesy. but it's pretty new.
read the science part.
click on "the science"
