Jeffrey,

I have contacted about half a dozen places and the best I can find is getting a machine in about 1 weeks time, all these machine are currently out on rental.

And from what I understand this will take a couple of days to get this work done. So you're looking at about 10 days to get this completed if you give the go ahead today to rent it.

There are lots of used machine out there for purchase if you plan on up keeping the runway and roads, there is a local rental company that is going out of business and they do have 3 rollers for sale but we will not be able to get pricing until tomorrow.

Please advise on what direction you would like us to go forward with.

Thank you
