GOALS

I'm so interested in the world around me, and whenever I can, I ask questions. I want to be immersed in as many new environments as my lifetime will allow. I'm especially excited to learn about finance, and I can not wait to become fluent in my financial knowledge. I hope to one day be able to incorporate my knowledge and training into a job where I can help others manage their finances.

After receiving my Bachelor degree, I hope to teach abroad English as a foreign language. My dream is to learn Mandarin, so my country of choice to teach in is China. After returning to America, I will go back to school to receive an MBA.
