

To: jeevacation@gmail.com[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: The New York Times
Sent: Mon 6/29/2009 4:28:14 PM
Subject: An update about your New York Times subscription

Title: An update about your New York Times subscription

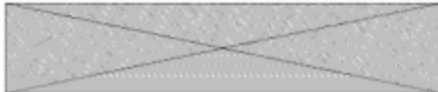

Dear Jeffrey,

As a subscriber to The Times, you have free access to the entire New York Times Archive online. This is one of the many benefits you are entitled to receive as a home delivery subscriber.

The Times Archive features every article published in The Times since 1851 — more than 13 million articles in all.

Look up articles from the day you were born or from milestone dates in the lives of your friends and family. You'll find fascinating stories on subjects you're interested in — from the arts and sciences to sports and fashion to world and national affairs.

Search the Archive today and take advantage of all the benefits that your subscription has to offer.

Log in or register your subscription. Then, on the "My Subscription" page, go to "My subscription benefits" and click on the link for free access to The Times archive.

For your convenience, here is your account information.
Account #:	864857495
Subscriber Since:	06/08/06
Name of account holder:	Jeffrey Epstein

You received this account-related e-mail as a home delivery subscriber to The New York Times. This e-mail was sent to advise you of products, services and features you are entitled to receive with your purchase.

If you have any questions about your home delivery service, please call Customer Care at [REDACTED]. You can talk to a representative from 5 a.m. to midnight E.S.T. Monday through Friday, and 5 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

To ensure delivery of The New York Times e-mails to your inbox, please add [REDACTED] to your address book.

Privacy Policy | Access or update your subscription account

© 2009 The New York Times Company | P.O. Box 217, Northvale, NJ 07647-0217

EFTA_R1_01512902
EFTA02439234
