Congratulations!!!!

Actually, I was just about to send you an email summarizing my recent progress, current situation, and future hypothetical plans... I'll probably do so tomorrow.

I'm sure you're super-swamped, but it would be great to get together when you have the chance...

p.s.

Also, the Singularity Summit (futurist conference, but with some good scientific speakers this year) will be in NY this year, Oct 3-4 ... and Oct 5-6, afterwards, there will be a brainstorming workshop I think you might enjoy (where, basically, the ~20 speakers from the Summit will get together and try to make conceptual progress on various future-science issues). I'll remind you again when the date gets closer!
