Subject: training

I called the training place that the store recommended. They are booked until september but the guy offered to come do an evaluation lesson and see if he can fit her in. He said he needs to do it at the house so he can see where she lives and how she behaves at home so he can fix it. Is it ok to have him come here? He could do it at 11.30am tomorrow.

This is their website; <http://www.onblondepet.com/MartinPictures.html>

Otherwise I can send her to the doggy 'stockade' tomorrow. The salon owner said they did a good job for few of their clients too so it would be his second choice.
