Curtis and I met with the horticulturist from the University here at LSJ last Friday afternoon.

He has a tremendous amount of knowledge about native plants and what will here work given our conditions, for example, he assessed that we have 2 native grasses, Bermuda and Hurricane grasses, that would be full and green if we would do the proper weeding and clearing of particular areas where they would do well.

We spoke to him specifically about landscaping around the flagpole house, including hydroseeding as well as what trees and plants would be tall, full and lush at this windy location.

We asked him for a proposal as a consultant to help us bring to flourish existing plantings and guide us on future landscape projects.

He will also putting together a list of local landscape architects for us to review.
