Finally, I reached her. Her blackberry was lost or stolen, and her computer is at Apple broken. On top of it, there were THREE big 21st birthday celebrations for her in nyc this week--whoa.....Anyway, so she wasn't getting any of my calls or messages, but I caught her at home through my maid and Peter. She said before losing the phone, she did contact Mattie a couple of times, and I gave her your number last night through Peter.. Now, you can see my frustration in certain periods like this lately, and I heard of course through the grapevine that S was back around. Well, she was very enthusiastice when we were together.. Well, I will be back in NY Wednesday to see what's REALLY going on. My birthday was yesterday and some Paris friends threw me a surprise party at an old jazz club. Give me a time when you are at the office and can talk. Don't give up on her yet! Thanks and xox
